Harold,

How are you and Lillian doing? I hope that this letter finds you both in good health.

I want to deeply apologize to you for violating your trust and confidence. I assure you it was not intentional but I will not bore you with the details. The simple fact is you told me something in confidence and I divulged it to Harry. This was inexcusable regardless of the circumstances.

You opened your home to me and assisted me in every way possible with my research and I hurt you. I cannot express how sorry I am. I would sooner confront the current shotgun-holdup team in a robbery than hurt you or Lil. I honestly love you both and have always regretted not being able to see you more often and longer.

I realize the potential problem that I have created and I have taken steps to minimize the damage. In order to insure that this does not re-occur I will not bother you again. It is the best way to prevent this from happening ever again.

I will probably not be able to attend Saturday as I had planned due to my work schedule but I do wish you both a Happy Birthday and many more to come.

I will return the "GRASSY KNOLL" tape to you by mail. I think it was terrible. Dave and I really enjoyed the Jerry Ray tape. I don't know why but he interests me a great deal.

I do want to thank you for all of your help over the past year or so. You were the only researcher who I felt that I could run idea's by and get an honest intellectual response. You took the time to explain the inner workings of the government and the FOIA to me and for this I am eternally grateful.

I am forever in your debt and once again I apologize.

Respectfully,
